The GOTHEA ROY fluid contains royal jelly, its fragrance is completed with a softly bitter composition of sandalwood, neroli, and orange leaf oils.

The active ingredients used in this preparation make it somewhat special. There's no need to distinguish between oily, normal or dry skin. The preparation is able to optimize skin functions. This also includes optimizing the activity of sebaceous glands. Remarkable are also its regenerative properties. One of the active ingredients, royal jelly, can be described as exceptional when present in regular cosmetic products. In conjunction with lecithin and other components, one is right to expect enhanced effects.

People usually tend to try new things, better and perhaps even more effective things. Progress cannot be stopped. So it is up to the client's judgment whether this new lecithin-based preparation made from "excessively" expensive ingredients meets such expectations.

Main ingredients: Lecithin. Vegetable oils: rose fruit, wheat germ, borage, jojoba. Essential oils: neroli, sandalwood. Panthenol. Royal jelly. Vitamins E and A.

Application: There's a touch of class to this preparation as well with its glass packaging complete with a dispenser. Application becomes easier than it is from regular boxes. Apply the preparation of your choice onto washed skin and massage in gently. In most cases, you won't need to apply any other creams. Only the driest of skin types will require this step.
