It is a special preparation with a very interesting composition. The basic ingredients are honey, finest vegetable oils, lecithin, and vitamins. The creation of this preparation was in a way necessitated by the fact of the constant rise in skin conditions whose treatment sometimes requires unconventional methods. AKTIDERMA LY represents a preparation which, if offered in drugstores and supermarkets, would be unsellable. Two words suffice during its sensory analysis: sticky and oily.

The users who had been using the preparation since the very beginning of its development were won over by AKTIDERMA LY's unique effects. It can be used for both oily, inflamed skin, and dry skin with atopic dermatitis or other similar skin problems. Its therapeutic effect consists in being able to activate "internal" cleansing of the skin. The composition of the ingredients improves lymphatic circulation and plays an active part in calming and improving the condition of the skin.

Main ingredients: Vegetable oils: jojoba, borage. Shea butter. Honey. Lecithin. Lanolin. Juniper berry essential oil. Vitamins A, E, F. Panthenol.

Application: Apply in a thicker layer (approx. 0.5 mm) on clean face, possibly also on the neck and décolleté, leaving it on for as long as you can. Then remove excess mask and wash the skin with water. It can be also used as a cream, in which case we apply only as much as the skin can take in. The sticky feeling will go away after about 20 minutes.

Information: Keeping the preparation in a cool place (fridge) may bring about the separation of oil phase and honey. Should this occur, simply stir the preparation to fix this. It is also possible that sugars in the honey start crystallizing. This isn't a problem either; the crystals will melt at body temperature.
