A high quality, full-body preparation for dry skin. This is an essential oil-free base cream. It can be applied as is in its neutral form, or used as a carrier cream for one's own preparations using essential oils according to one's taste or therapeutic needs. Even in this neutral form, it is ideal for treating dry skin all over the body, especially suitable for people with very sensitive skin and overall intolerance. It is easily spread at room temperature and subsequent body temperature. Cold storage makes it go solid. After its application, skin loses its shine and acquires soft, velvet quality. Therapeutic properties specific to one's needs can be obtained by adding particular essential oils.
