A lipio serum is a regenerative preparation of a whole new kind. Its ingredients are known to optimize skin functions including sebaceous gland activity, skin regeneration, skin softening, and anti-inflammatory properties. With regular application, over time, hyperpigmentation may even become lighter; it also protects the skin against UV radiation.

Practically ever since the cosmetics bearing the KH logo started to be produced, queries have been coming in concerning an ungraceful phenomenon that particularly affects the older generations – hyperpigmentation. But not even younger people remain unaffected. What can be done? The response has always been „limited“. Stay away from the sun. Nothing has changed about it to this day. Some bleaching, largely by chemical means, may be possible, though it is not at all advisable. It is good to keep in mind that any innocuous hyperpigmentation spot can develop into a malign tumor. In such a case, rather than resorting to „chemical irritants“, it is preferable to see a specialist – a dermatologist. This is especially true if hyperpigmentation starts to “bother“ you. It is a different matter, of course, to provide skin care for hyperpigmented skin. This is where the new ALBIDERM LIPIO SERUM may help. It is no wonder product that will make hyperpigmentation go away at the drop of a hat. However, thanks to the compounds it contains, particularly lecithin, vitamins A, E, C, as well as essential oils, the spots will become slightly lighter. Hyperpigmentation may not disappear completely, but the contrast diminishes, becoming less visible.
