The baby's crying, hot with fever, diarrhea, the reason unknown. What is going on? Then gums become swollen. The baby is teething... Every mum knows this period and remembers it for the rest of her life. In the drugstore you can buy various teething rings, cooling gels; a carrot will also do the trick if you put it in the fridge to chill. The baby can then suck, nibble, bite... Another solution is gum massage. But what to do it with? What is also crucial for kids is the taste. The blend of essential and vegetable oils tastes "slightly fruity".

Main ingredients: Vegetable oils: canola, sunflower and olive. Essential oils: fennel, manuka, clove, spear mint, tea tree. Vitamins, e.g. A, E.

Properties: BABY-DENT has a fragrance that is very pleasant, light, subtle, unobtrusive, velvety and feels almost like a caress. The smell itself invites you to taste it. And it will be surprising. The sweetness of manuka is balanced by spearmint and lightly complemented by clove. The essential oils contained in BABY-DENT have an effect not only on the problems linked to teething, but they are also highly therapeutic in calming the mind. They restore inner peace, dispel fear, tackle insomnia, boost concentration and have a harmonizing effect. This will surely calm down mums as well as dads. The parents will be relieved that their children are free from pain.

Application: The BABY-DENT oral care oil for kids will be of real help during teething but also during the following oral care. Before the teeth have come out, put a couple of drops of BABY-DENT on your finger and slowly massage the gums. You can start giving the massage from the third month onward. The child will get used to this activity and will trust you to do this treatment when in pain. Through regular massage, blood circulation in the gum tissue increases, reducing teething-related swelling and pain.
